MEET THE COACH

Dear fans,

Let me start by saying how excited my family and I are about making Sacramento our new home. In just the short time I have been here I have enjoyed the diversity and the established soccer culture in the area. I am excited to become part of the Sacramento community!

One reason that I am coming to Sacramento is the commitment to success that this organization has already established at its core. Graham Smith and Warren Smith have showed me that Sacramento has no interest in being mediocre, and neither do I. You deserve greatness from your club, and I assure you that I am here because I believe we can be successful right away. This organization is dedicated to making Sacramento a force in the soccer world in the United States, and I look forward to the challenges that we will conquer as we achieve this goal.

As we begin to build this team I want you to know how important your role will be in the success of this club. The community is the foundation of our organization. Everything from the colors we fly to the shield we wear reflects our community. I believe that when we unite under these colors we will be an indomitable force in professional soccer for many years to come. Sacramento deserves a professional team of the highest caliber. To accomplish this we must come together and take the soccer culture in Sacramento to new heights. This is your club! Stand with us, and as one we will be powerful.

Our goal is to create a club that all of Sacramento can be proud of. When we stand together, club and community, I think there is no limit to the success that we can reach. I am honored to be your coach and I am truly excited for the opportunities that we have in front of us. Thank you very much for your support!

Sincerely,
Your Coach
Predrag "Preki" Radosavljević

Predrag "Preki" Radosavljević

Sac Pro Soccer is proud to announce Predrag Radosavljević as the Sacramento USL team's new head coach! Known endearingly as "Preki" to fans, Radosavljević is often cited as one of the best midfielders to ever play Major League Soccer. Playing during the first 10 seasons of MLS, he scored 79 goals, earned 112 assists, and was named MVP twice – once in 1997 and again in 2003. Radosavljević retired in 2005 while playing for the Kansas City Wizards, and went on to become an assistant coach for Chivas USA in 2006. He took over head-coaching duties for the club in 2007, and left to become head coach for Toronto FC in 2010. The same year, Radosavljević was inducted as a member of the National Soccer Hall of Fame.

IMAGINE MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER IN SAC

Together, we can make it happen

BY MIKE BLOUNT

Soccer is a game that transcends cultures, age groups and language barriers to bring us all together. There are more than 93,000 active soccer players in the Sacramento region. Soccer has become an integral part of Sacramento culture, and a love of the sport has been engendered in youth, parents, college students, athletes, and many others in the River City. With a built-in base of support like that, Sacramento is the perfect place to bring a Major League Soccer team to play. According to a 2009 survey, Sacramento is one of eight U.S. cities with only one major league sport and is ranked 11th in the nation for soccer expansion.

So, how do we do it?

One thing each and every one of us can do is show our support for our new United Soccer League team — buy season tickets, wear the team jerseys and get your friends and family involved. By supporting the USL PRO team, you're helping Sacramento prove that we have the market to support an MLS team. If Sacramento wants to compete in a national market for soccer, we need to show we have a passionate and unwavering fan base. Keep in mind, the last four franchises to come into the MLS were all from the USL.

Secondly, we need a stadium. Each of those last four expansions — Montreal, Seattle, Vancouver, Portland — all have record-breaking attendance for the league, but they also share the fact that their stadiums are located within each city's downtown urban core. Building a soccer-specific stadium within the downtown urban core provides several amenities, such as public transit, walkability and convenient access to businesses that can cater to soccer fans as they are coming and going to games. Building a stadium fosters growth in the area, creating new jobs and a better local economy.

IF SACRAMENTO WANTS TO COMPETE IN A NATIONAL MARKET FOR SOCCER, WE NEED TO SHOW WE HAVE A PASSIONATE AND UNWAVERING FAN BASE.

MLS has learned that these downtown facilities attract their key demographic (18- to 34-year-olds) and soccer fans turn each match into an event, complete with dinner, alcohol and quality time with friends out and about before and after the games. While locations in downtown Sacramento are still being scouted, Sac Pro Soccer is already in talks with the city to find the best location to bring the fervor of soccer to the heart of downtown.

Having an MLS professional team in Sacramento is not only a real and attainable goal, it makes sense for the city. So let's all do our part to help make this dream a reality. Together, we can make it happen.
